

God's Thunder; The Second Coming

© 2023

Lyricist: Low Jun Jian

God strikes down like thunder
All His foes, they should shudder
Mighty man, he sees you clear
Glory thunder, and in fear
You kill, we save, not the same
Bright hearts against the dark's cruel game
Light breaking through like thunder
In the storm, our spirits won't wonder

The devil may come to find me
But in Him, I am safe, you see
God's men rise, take a vow
Non-violent war, thunder now

Hearts bright, are against hearts black
The battle from dark to light is fact
A war of love, not hate or plunder
Break the chains with love, like thunder
With hearts we lead, heads can deceive
This war, a storm we must believe
Scare like thunder, let it rumble
This war's end, let it crumble

The devil may come, to find me
But in Him, I am safe, you see
God's men rise, take a vow
Non-violent war, thunder now

The devil may come, to find me
But in Him, I am safe, you see
God's men rise, take a vow
Non-violent war, thunder now

This war must end, break like light
A world reborn, with love not fight
The storm clears, the sky unburdened
Peace descending, a victory like thunder
