

Wind Blows Years

© 2023

Lyricist: Alain Levac

Yeah, I feel something special
I think of everyone I've known
Everywhere a party was thrown
Time passes like the wind that blows
Life is made of make or break
Knocking down walls will let you see Life's tough, more than you can take
I wrote this song from memory

It's mostly mankind's stories
In our youth, it's always someone
Fear of coming drama, we're lost
Shy and waiting, but at what cost

The winds have blown my fears away
Embrace the moments, every day

Why the magic of love is so special
When someone we love make us freeze
Why are we afraid to say "I love you"
When you wake up, with no ease
Wind blows me... it's all gone
But lets me awake in the early dawn

It's mostly mankind's stories
In our youth, it's always someone
Fear of coming drama, we're lost
Shy and waiting, but at what cost

The winds have blown my fears away
Embrace the moments, every day
... yeah, yeah

Wind quickly blows the years being with you, brings my heart tears
Leaving memories behind

Tears I dropped for years, to find
As song of love I won't forget
Winds blow away and I reset

It's mostly mankind's stories
In our youth, it's always someone
Fear of coming drama, we're lost
Shy and waiting, but at what cost

The winds have blown my fears away
Embrace the moments, every day
... yeah, yeah

Let the winds blow your fears away
Embrace each moment, every day
Let the winds blow your fears away
Embrace each moment, every day...